PROTECTING THE HUMAN AND THE HIVE

Disrupt nuisance behavior. End foraging.
Protect people. All without destroying hives.

The Aculeo BuzzBox™ system is a biology-based solution that stops foraging bees before they become a problem. By disrupting the behavioral feedback loop honey bees use to locate sugar-rich food sources, BuzzBox™ removes bees from high-traffic human spaces like restaurants, drink stands, or outdoor venues without the need to kill hives or overuse pesticides.

Let's biohack those bees

Honey bees use a form of chemical communication to share the location of food sources. BuzzBox™ exploits this natural process by luring bees away from human areas with a specialized syrup and pheromone combination, then breaking the chain of communication back to the hive. Without reinforcement, the hive simply “forgets” the original site. We call this the Black Hole Effect — to the bees, your client’s location might as well not exist.

Key benefits

ELIMINATES FORAGING BEES Dramatically reduces bee presence in human spaces.

DISRUPTS, DOESN'T JUST KILL Interrupts the foraging cycle at the source.

HIVE-LOCATING UNNECESSARY Save time — no more chasing or removing hives.

NEW REVENUE STREAM PCOs can charge $100–$200/month for service.

PESTICIDE-CONSCIOUS Uses minimal product; no power, no moving parts.

BEE-FRIENDLY Respected by clients and praised by PR teams.

Praise

“The BuzzBox™ has transformed the way we protect commercial spaces from nuisance honey bee activity. By preventing sugar-foraging bees from communicating the location of food sources, it breaks the cycle before it begins — no power, no structural modification, and no disruption to business operations. We’ve seen consistent success in high-traffic, high-risk settings. For facilities managers and corporate leaders looking for a clean, effective solution that prioritizes safety and sustainability, this is it.”

STEVE THOENES, BEEMASTER, INC

“Our bee problems are almost non-existent. We went from fielding complaints and solving problems to having no customer complaints for over a year. [Aculeo has provided us] an out-of-sight, out-of-mind service for a problem that used to be an almost every day thing for us.”
